GOVERNMENT TO STOP PROFITEERING ON COAL

FAMILY ROW AGAIN IN FULL SWING IN HARDING'S CABINET;
MELLON TO RESIGN

Rumors of Resignation Is Revived With Increasing Force Thursday

REPORTS MEET WITH THE USUAL DENIALS

Mellon's Stand Against Soldier Bonus Has Aroused Much Opposition

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6—An administration family row of such proportions that it may lead to the resignation of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury is in full swing in Washington today.

The retirement of the multi-millionaire Pittsburgher from the Harding cabinet has been rumored a dozen times in recent months, but the rumors have always proved groundless.

Today, however, these reports revived with such insistence to convince many of his friends and foes alike that Mr. Mellon's resignation is forthcoming.

Brought to the attention of the white house and treasury departments the reports met with the usual denials today. It was not denied, however, that the most serious family row so far developed in President Harding's official family is in progress.

The shaking up is being actively directed by Elmer Dover, personal friend of the President, who only recently was appointed assistant secretary of the treasury. At the time of his appointment, Republican senators said his mission was to shake up the treasury and clean out the Democrats, of whom a great number are still in the department.

The unyielding stand which Mr.
Mellon has taken against the soldier bonus in this campaign year has aroused much opposition in both houses. The aggregate of Mr. Mel-lon's difficulties is such that official Washington would not be surprised should his retirement from the cabinet be forthcoming.

GOVERNOR SMALL
TRIED APRIL 17TH

(International News Service)
COURTHOUSE, WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 6—Governor Len Small will face trial for alleged conspiracy to embezzle before Judge C. C. Edwards Monday, April 17.

Agreement to the date of the trial was agreed upon during the conference held in the court chambers this morning, during which the defense accepted the plans of Judge Edwards for the selecting of a new jury array.
This plan embraces the selection of a jury by taking every fourth name on the polling list. The continuance was granted to permit the committee of three to carry out the work of drawing a new jury arrangement.

Texas Solons In Serious Row On Floor of House

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6—Shouts of "shut up" and "put him out" and "liar" were bandied about the house of representatives this afternoon when Texas staged a family row on the floor over charges made by Representative Blanton, Democrat, that other members of the Texas delegation had abused stationery privileges.
Order was finally restored after some difficulty. There has been a feud on for some time between Blanton and other members of the Texas delegation. Blanton recently narrowly escaped expulsion for inserting obscene matter into the staid old Congressional Record. Today the feud broke out afresh.

Mennonites In Religious Migration

One of the greatest religious migrations since the days of Moses now is in progress. From Canada to their new homes in Mexico 20,000 members of the Mennonite faith are traveling. Members of the sect were ordered by their bishops to sell their Canadian holdings, after the Mennonite leaders and the Government had come to legal blows. This photo shows a group of the tribe and typifies the majority.

AMERICANS LIVE TOO HARD AND TOO FAST, DOCTOR SAYS

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 6—"Americans live too hard and too fast. The chances of death after 50 years of life are increasing instead of decreasing.
In the last 20 years the death rate during the first five years of life has been greatly lowered, but for the later years of life it has not. It is poor economy to educate and train business men and women only to lose their services to the community and state when they reach middle life."

These are some of the deductions made by Dr. M. P. Ravenel, professor of preventive medicine, in charge of the public health service laboratories at the school of medicine of the University of Missouri. The bureau of the census has recently sent advanced information on new life tables, which are soon to be issued. This will be the second official publication on life tables ever issued in the United States and figures are now available for the last 20 years.

"People are interested in health largely because they are afraid to die," said Dr. Ravenel, who is also president of the National American Public Health association. "The true motive for health should be efficiency and not mere prolongation of life."

"The results obtained by our census bureau show that the death rate at practically all ages is higher for men than for women, and the women showing the lowest death rate are those living in rural communities.
For both sexes rural dwellers show a lower death rate, age for age, than for persons living in cities."

"While the average span of life has increased for both sexes there is no evidence that there has been any actual increase in the years of life. This is explained by the fact that practically all classes of people are living longer on the average, and the greatest cause of this average increase is the saving of life in the first five years."

"In 1900 a white female was entitled to expect three years' longer life than white males, and in 1910 this had increased to three and one-half years. Except for negroes, there has been a general improvement for all classes up to the age of 40 for men and 50 for women."

"There has been a decided improvement among all classes of population in the infant death rate. Again, we find that children born in the country show a considerably lower death rate than those born in the city. However, it is not as great as it was in 1901, which indicates that the widespread efforts which have been put forth to better conditions in our cities have met with success."

"Comparing ourselves with the following foreign countries, Australia, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Holland, India, Italy, Japan, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, we find that, except for France, India and Japan, our expectation of life both for men and women is less favorable than in any of the foreign countries mentioned."

"In Norway, for example, which shows the lowest annual death rate for the first five years of life, for every thousand the rate is 81 deaths for males and 67 deaths for females, while for the corresponding class in this country the rate is 127 for males and 105 for females. The most striking thing about these figures is the great improvement in our death rate during the early years of life and the lack of improvement after 50 years of age —in fact, after 50 the conditions in regard to certain diseases have become worse instead of better."

"The American lives too hard and too fast. It is poor economy to educate and train business men and women only to lose their services to the community and state just about middle life, when they should be at their best."

"This is the problem which confronts physicians and sanitarians at the present day and one which demands the closest consideration not only from professional persons but from the community at large."

Cotton Pool Movement Gaining Impetus Over the Tennessee Valley

By P. O. DAVIS

Throughout the Tennessee Valley the movement recently launched by the Alabama farm bureau federation to provide a better and more profitable market for cotton by forming a big cotton pool is rapidly gaining favor and already thousands of bales have been signed, according to reports received from different counties by District Agent J. T. High of Auburn, who is making Decatur his temporary headquarters during the sign-up campaign.

Reporting the results of the movement by counties, Mr. High states that to date, Madison county is in the lead with 1,200 bales signed, and that Lauderdale and Colbert are tied for second with 1,000 bales each, while in Limestone and Morgan several hundred bales have been signed and otherwise excellent progress made.

Special assistance has been rendered in the Madison county sign-up by John S. Kernachan, a prominent Colbert county farmer and chairman of the Alabama farm bureau cotton marketing organization committee.

William Hardie, of Auburn, has been assisting County Agent Yarbrough and the Colbert county farm bureau in directing the campaign in Colbert but has recently been transferred to Lawrence county where several large contracts have been signed.

Jackson, Franklin, Lamar, Cullman and Blount counties are preparing to get under way, and, in the opinion of Mr. High, the final total number of bales in the Tennessee Valley will greatly exceed the original expectations.

1904, has for its objects the promotion of libraries and literary interests in Alabama. During its existence it has

WARN ARMY TOO
AGAINST THE REDS

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, April 6—On top of the warning issued to the American navy against acceptance of red propaganda, came a similar warning this afternoon, addressed to the army by Secretary of War Weeks. Weeks said certain radical elements have been at work in both the army and navy, attempting to inculcate soviet doctrines in service men.

The twin warnings caused considerable mystery here in view of the announcement by Attorney General Daugherty that the red scare was greatly exaggerated.

HOME HIT

During the rain storm yesterday a residence on Fourth avenue West was struck by lightning, demolishing the chimney and setting fire to the roof with slight damage. The fact that a heavy rain was falling at the time rendered the damage to the roof slight on account of fire. The Albany fire department responded but the fire was out before their arrival.

PREPARATIONS ARE COMPLETED TODAY
FOR BIG FIELD DAY PROGRAM FRIDAY

Thousands of Visitors Will Gather In Hartselle For
The Event

COMPETITION IS KEEN
AMONG THE SCHOOLS

Merchants Have Liberally Contributed Prizes To Be Given Winners

With final preparations being hurriedly completed, the schools of Morgan county today were set for the greatest field day in the history of the county's education system. The annual event will be held Friday in Hartselle.

Arrangements have been completed with the Louisville and Nashville railroad company to operate a special train from here. The train will leave at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and an invitation has been extended by school officials to parents to make the trip with the children.

"This will give the parents a clearer insight into the work being done by the schools and will aid the teachers materially in their gigantic task of looking after the children," R. W. Co-wart, superintendent of the Albany schools, announced.

Big Program Planned

The committee in charge of the program, appointed by the teachers organization, has arranged one of the most interesting since the annual field days were started several years ago.

Merchants of the county have liberally contributed many handsome and valuable prizes to be awarded the winners in the various events and competition will be keen between representatives of all the schools. The competition also will be keen among the schools to have the large percentage of enrollment present Friday.

Officials of the Twin City schools today were planning to send approximately 1,500 children to Hartselle.
They will be in charge of a competent corps of teachers.

The Parent-Teachers association of Hartselle has prepared to feed the throngs of school children and visitors and lunches will be served on the grounds.

WARFARE RENEWED
IN IRELAND TODAY

(International News Service) DUBLIN, April 6—Warfare has broken out today between the multitude of factions of the Irish Republican army and the troops supporting the Irish free state. Free state troops were ambushed and attacked in County Wicklow early today. The Republicans, concealed behind hedges, opened fire upon a troop detachment that was on patrol duty.

The Republicans fell back after firing several volleys, pursued by the free staters. All the attackers escaped into the hills.

The situation in Dublin is most tense. Disorders and clashes between loyal and rebel troops are reported from many country districts. A rumor was current here that a peace conference had been arranged between Eamonn de Valera and Michael Collins, leaders of the two rival factions, but de Valera's headquarters denied it.

Roy Dickerson
Begins Sentence

CAMP KILBY, Ala., April 6—Roy Dickerson, noted bank robber and jewelry thief, today began a 25-year sentence following conviction at Seale, Russell county, for conspiracy in the Phoenix-Girard bank robbery two years ago. Dickerson made no denial of evidence presented by the state.
When arraigned he pleaded not guilty.
Reports that Dickerson would seek a new trial have not been confirmed.

Biggest Mortgage
Filed For Record
In Morgan's Court

The Louisville and Nashville railroad company has filed a mortgage for record with the probate judge of Morgan county in favor of the United States Trust company of New York City for $243,- 415,967. The mortgage sets out that $52,932,600 is the value of the property of the company in the state of Alabama; that the amount of indebtedness upon which the filing tax for record in the office of the probate judge shall be paid be $46,958,400; also that the amount of the filing tax is $70,- 437.60. The amount of the record fee at the probate office here is $78.15.

ROADS RESISTING
ANY RATE CUTS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 6—(Special)—Appearing before the Alabama public service commission Wednesday, representatives of carriers operating in this state, in testimony submitted in connection with the general rate hearing now in progress stated they were not asking for an increase in passenger fares, but urged that present fares not be reduced. If any reductions in present passenger rate were put into effect, it was stated, the railroads would be faced with bankruptcy.

Though various witnesses representing the railroads appeared on the stand during the day, R. D. Pusey, of Louisville, Ky., general passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville, who first took the stand, summed up in his testimony the position of the carriers in regard to passenger rates, as a whole. Points brought out by him were more fully discussed by those who followed him on the stand. He stated that while some of the railroads are managing to make ends meet through application of the present passenger rate of 3.6 cents, others are not doing so, and any reduction at this time would make the situation much worse. In support of this statement, he contended that if within the past six months a rate of three cents had been applied on passenger fares, the railroads not only would not have realized a profit, but would not have earned operating expenses.

Five capital cases have been set for trial in the circuit court next week as follows:
Amos Aldridge, alias Crab Aldridge, murder.
Harry Bolton, murder.
Will Saint and Jim Griffin, highway robbery.
J. R. Reeder, murder.
One hundred special veniremen have been summoned for jury duty in addition to the regular venire already summoned for service the last week of court. An interesting fact not perhaps known by many is that the jury already summoned for duty next week must, under the law, be resummoned and appraised of the fact that they are to serve on capital cases. This means that 150 jurymen will be summoned to court for next week.

DAUGHERTY WARNS BOTH DEALERS AND
OPERATORS NOT TO BOOST THE PRICES

Declares Public Should Be Informed That No Shortage Now Exists

LEWIS SAYS OPERATORS
NOW "RUN TRUE TO FORM"

Refusal To Negotiate Has No Effect On The Mine
Strike

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6—The government is prepared to stop profiteering in coal, should it be undertaken either by operators or retail dealers, Attorney General Daugherty declared today. The attorney general has taken notice of a movement by coal dealers in some parts of the country to cause buying of coal through fear of a shortage or future high prices.

Such dealers, he said, are playing a losing game, pointing out that the public should be well informed that there is neither shortage of coal in prospects nor justification for higher prices.

NEW YORK, April 6—"The mine owners are running true to form," was the comment today of John L.
Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, when he learned that the operators in Indiana and Ohio had rejected the conference proposal.

Lewis continued: "The operators are pursuing the same policy which necessitated the issuance of the strike order. We have made every effort to meet them half way, but up to date they have stubbornly refused to meet us in the same spirit." Asked if the calling off of the proposed Washington conference would have any effect upon the coal strike, President Lewis replied: "It can have no effect. The strike will continue according to plans."

WASHINGTON, April 6—Possibility of immediate settlement of the coal strike dwindled today. Overtures made by the house labor committee to the operators in the central competitive field to meet the miners to negotiate a new wage scale have failed of friendly acceptance.

Chairman Nolan, of the committee, had before him today rejections of the committee's invitation for the peace meeting to be held in Washington April 10, from several operators in Ohio and Indiana.

Refusals to meet with the miners came from the Pittsburgh vein operators association, the Ohio Coalfields company, the largest individual coal company in Ohio, and from the Indiana coal operators.

SHIP IS AGROUND;
PASSENGERS SAFE

NEW YORK, April 6—Approximately 100 passengers, many of them women and children, were taken from the steamship Concord, of the Boston-Colonial line, after the vessel had gone aground in the sound on the sunken Meadows, off 132 street in a heavy fog early today.

The steamship City of Brockton, of the New England Steamship company, at first reported to have also carried passengers, went aground in the same locality. Officials of the company said later, however, that there were no passengers on the vessel.

HOW TO GET THEM.

How to get new industries is a question in which every wide-awake city is interested. It directs this interest through its commercial organization. In order to learn the consensus of opinion among such bodies, the Sunbury, Pennsylvania, Chamber of Commerce sent a questionnaire to 200 similar organizations throughout the country. In an account of the results, the Rome News says:

The consensus of answers to the question: "What is the best means of securing industries?" was that it can be most effectively done by keeping accurate record of actual conditions and bringing them to the attention of bona fide manufacturers.

The following questions were answered by most chambers in the negative:

"Do you give any bonus, or make any concessions to new industries?" No 192, yes 17.
"Have you ever done so?" No 162, yes 68.
"Have you, or have you not, ever had an industrial fund to finance new industries?" No 163, yes 34.

"Has your community ever had any disastrous experience in attempting to finance or bolster new industries?" No 94, yes 86.

"Do you attempt to secure tax exemption for new industries?" No 161, yes 28.

"Has your town expanded industrially to any great extent during the past five years?"

No 31, yes 166.

Time was when it was considered proper to offer a bonus, tax exemption and other inducements to secure new industries. Now business is done on a different basis, and it is better all around, better for the town and better for the manufacturer. The substantial manufacturer, it has been learned, does not seek financial aid, but he does want to locate where conditions peculiar to his own product are most favorable, and where there is manifesting a feeling of good will and helpfulness toward him.—Gadsden Journal.

March with her varying moods is gone, and the month which brings in spring with a dash on the wings of the wind, has passed another milestone. March even with all her varying moods is always welcome, for with her comes the first signs of the recurring season of new birth for all which seems dead. From the brown fields which have appeared dead to all intents and purposes there springs from without the soil, vegetation, the first herald that another season is knocking at the door of time seeking admittance.

Then follows April, the month of smiles and tears, and also one of varying moods, but, less moodish. They are of short duration, and milder. April is the month of nesting birds and blooming flowers. It is then that the call to the great outdoors becomes insistent, and few can resist the inclination to revel in sunshine and balmy air. It is a great season and breaks the long dull monotony of rain and cold.

The sweet singer of the South the mockingbird is giving nightly serenades. The male bird does the singing it is said and sings to his mate who is brooding in some honeysuckle vine or other obscure place nearby. All night at different intervals this clear noted bird musician can be heard in almost every locality of the southland. This bird when left free and unmolested becomes quite domesticated, and prefers to stay around dwellings and orchards, where they usually nest. These birds were formerly killed with a warren spirit. Now they are better protected and their tribe is increasing at a rapid rate. It is a punishable offense to kill a mockingbird, and it should be; such singers should be spared and given all the protection it is possible to give them.

I once heard a sick man say: he was cheered much at night by the notes of one of these birds which sang all during the night near his home, and he felt as if his feathered friend was singing just to cheer him up. Don't kill the mockingbirds; they are every one's friend.

The earliest Greek inscriptions were written from right to left. Next came the method called "boustrophedon," in the method the written lines run alternately from left to right, or a vice versa. Lastly, writing from left to right became universal.

Boilermaker's Father 100 Years Old

C. Edgar Brown's father is 100 years old plus, from March 27 until today. Edgar is a boilermaker at the shops and his father is a Confederate pensioner and lives at Lenoir City, Tenn. The elder Brown has borne the patriotic name of George Washington since March 27, 1822. He was stolen by a friendly Indian at the age of six, learned the Indian tongue, and to shoot as well with bow and arrow as young redskins. He was restored to his father, Brooks Brown, who died in 1862, on payment of $900 to the Indians. The old Indian keeper of George Washington Brown returned to the white father's house with the boy and secured a lease on the white man's farm for life. Against his father's wishes, the returned boy used to return and hunt with the Indians, according to Edgar Brown. The Centenarian attributes his long life to the fact that both his second and first wife were good to him. By both marriages he is the father of 17 children, two of whom remain with their parents, Miss Etta Brown and John Brown. In early manhood Mr. Brown carried the U. S. mail via the ancient coach. He fought two years for the Confederacy until taken prisoner. Following the Battle of Chickamauga, he saw 50 wounded soldiers perish in a burning building. He narrowly escaped death at Chickamauga, and as a youth had another narrow escape when knocked down by a youth because young Brown held to his political faith—Democratic—so tenaciously against his assailant, who was a Whig. Mr. Brown was converted to Christianity about 12 years ago under the preaching of a woman minister. His life was from the first remarkably clear, only once was he known to swear, and then he remarked when remonstrated with while engaged in a fight: "I'll kill the whole d—n family, if they don't let me alone." Mr. Brown celebrated his 100th birthday with suitable festivities, his son Edgar being one of the guests.

He tended his own garden last year and walks six blocks to town, in Lenoir City. A photograph of this remarkable man shows him apparently full of mental vigor, and his looks are not deceptive, as he reads all the dailies available and keeps squarely up with the times.

81 Years Old Today

Saturday, April 8, J. A. Humphrey who retired with pension in January of this year, is just 81 years older than when he first saw the light. He has been for going on 30 years an employee of the local shops, in the air brake department. He stated at his home in Decatur that he had seen the shops grow from a few buildings to the present equipment of 14 or more; that Master Mechanic Beckard, now dead, was in charge most of the time he served at the shops; that John F. Hartung, now dead, was foreman over all the woodwork, and lower years that his foreman, William Billings, died a few years ago, and that he was succeeded by Jos. Verner. Mr. Humphrey was quite cheerful but showed plainly the effects of the strain of 81 years of life, such as it is on this particular planet.

How an EXPECTANT MOTHER Prepared for Baby's Coming

DO YOU know that thousands of women never really suffer at child-birth? Perhaps you have thought with many others that this should always be the case. But how?

Let Mrs. Mattie Paul, of Ocala, Ga., tell you. She is one of thousands who has demonstrated this fact:

"As I am a young mother of one baby, I am writing for free booklet to 'expectant mothers.' I used only two bottles of Mother's Friend before I was confined and had a quick and easy time through labor. I can recommend Mother's Friend to all expectant mothers. I will never go through pregnancy without it."

You, too, can have this booklet for expectant mothers by sending coupon below.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

New York Letter
by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, April 6.—Evidently all a man has to do in regards to this here liquor-selling is to tell the truth and look doubtful about it and he can become a millionaire, easily and safely. A rather well-known downtown business man, who lives over in Newark, N. J., after working hours, went over to Canada the other day to buy enough Scotch and rye to keep him and his friends cheerful for many months. He left $10,000 in cash with liquor dealers there, according to the story, and the stuff was to be shipped him in a carload of hay. A few days later, he received a telegram notifying him his "cargo" would reach Newark. The bill of lading called for one carload of hay. He engaged a truck, located his car—and inside he found one bale of hay and that was ALL!

In 1921 bank clearing in New York City totalled $252,338,249,466.

The Fine Arts Federation is taking up the cudgels for Frederick McMonies statue of Civic Virtue, about which so much agitation is rising around the city hall. Robert I. Aitken, president of the National Sculpture, an organization of the Fine Arts Federation, has asked that a meeting of it be called in order that some action may be taken. The controversy involves a question much bigger, Mr. Aitken insists, than whether or not some women and Mayor Hylan like the looks of the young man and the mermaid siren under his feet. Objection has been made on the ground that anything which seemed to scorn mermaids was indirectly scolding their whole sex and that women voters ought to protest.

Mr. Aitken, other artists of the city, and large numbers of women who haven't seen fit to take part in the dispute, argue that even the most literal minded passerby knows enough of symbolism to recognize the spirit of the statue and not accept it as a reflection on his sister and mother.

"This situation has something bigger and more menacing than the fate of a single work of art, great though that may be," said Mr. Aitken. "It is the question whether, when we have created an art commission and given it power, we shall let that power be nullified. Progress in the field of art would be crippled by the establishment of such a precedent. The New York Art commission passed on this statue both in the sketch and in the final form and approved it. That decision ought to be upheld by the citizens." No question has been raised over the artistic merit of the statue. That is admitted unqualifiedly, even by its opponents.

There are just two cures for the present jazz spirit, according to Laurette Taylor—religion or a job. Give the flapper either one and she will cast aside her insistence upon dancing and frivolous, joy-riding and rouging, all the hours of the day. And Miss Taylor believes that the situation has grown sufficiently serious so that attention ought to be given immediately to seeing that every flapper does get one—or both these stabilizers. "Girls expect an actress to approve of frivolity," she said. "They become quite demoralized when I begin preaching. But usually come around to admitting the force of my say."

Mrs. Harold J. Vogler, of this city, was voted the best-dressed woman aboard the incoming liner Orlinda the other day. She had been spending the winter in Switzerland and was still wearing some of the skiing mountain clothing and whatever else one does in Switzerland in the winter, sufficiently to show it in her clothes, which were almost entirely sports costumes.

BANK STREET

You still like spring chicken don't you? Well, just get your appetite ready for a plate of "Yellow Legs." You see the "Morgan Co. Feed Store" sells the "Purina Poultry Feed" which has filled a long-felt want in raising the baby chicks.

Our success in raising chickens this season has been the envy of all our neighbors.

Say, Buddie, maybe you think because we've been married so long that times with us have grown dull, but, oh, Boy! You should be with us on Sunday afternoons.

Our direct are as well kept that it is a real pleasure to drive our splendid car for several hours, and to avoid having to prepare our supper at home we drive straight to the Decatur Cafe for our evening meal. And maybe you think we don't enjoy their delicious coffee?

When we wish to meet our friends on Sunday nights, all we have to do is to go to Beason-Cobb Drug Co. as every one goes there. You'll find out the reason why when you go home.

Some Sundays we prefer to stay at home and read, so we keep on hand a supply of good books, magazines and newspapers from R. B. Graves in Decatur. We can hardly get through the day without some of Clopton's Ice Cream and you won't be here long before you'll have this habit, too.

O, yes, I must tell you of the accident that occurred on Second Avenue the other day.

Kate was driving our new car and as we drove across Moulton street, we collided with a messenger boy on a wheel. I put on the brake and jumped out in time to see the little fellow jump up and found that he was not hurt in the least.

I was surprised indeed until I found that he rode one of those new "Dayton" old by N. W. George on LaFayette street. The only damage done by our car was a punctured tire which was promptly taken care of by the Twin City Tire Co.

Say, you remember Uncle Ben's car, well the other day we were driving along with him on the bridge, and all at once he shouted, stop! I did, and what do you think he wanted? To have us admire the beautiful monuments made by the Southern Stone and Marble Co. says he has never looked on death with any degree of satisfaction before. "And," he said, "Don't you send to any far-off city to buy flowers for my funeral. The City Park Greenhouse can furnish flowers good enough for me."

Now Jack, let me give you one last piece of advice; marry in your old suit and shoes and wait until you arrive in our city and buy your "wedding suit" from W. M. Bailey and your shoes from Moseley-Eggers Shoe Co. You'll find it well worth a try.

Don't worry about the care of clothes and shoes, we have the Overlea Cleaning & Pressing Parlor and Freeman's Shoe Shop to keep you neat and trim.

Be sure to tell Marie that it is useless to load her trunk with Paris creations as "The Fashion" in Decatur has Paris style, best, a "city block."

Here is my wife with a tray of refreshing drinks just received from the Coca-Cola Bottling Works, so will stop and drink with a toast to your wedding happiness.

Anxiously awaiting your arrival, I am,

YOUR "BIG BUD."

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Way Luck Served Madge and Dicky Well.

I do not believe I ever have been more embarrassed than I was when the revelation came to me that I had introduced Dick to Dr. McDermott as Mr. Graham, while the dapper little doctor knew me only as Mrs. Black, the name I recently had put on the hotel register. My face felt as if it were being seared with flame, and I could only look helplessly at Dicky, hoping that in some way he could straighten things out.

It was not altogether a blind trust I reposed in him. Ever since my wedding day I have recognized that one of my husband's pre-eminent qualities is his social tact, his ability to handle any unusual situation gracefully and delicately. And as I saw him, with no outward trace of embarrassment, advance to meet the rotund little physician with cordially extended hand, I gave a little inaudible sigh of relief. I knew that Dicky would manage in some way to extricate me from the humiliating predicament my foolish precaution against being followed by the mysterious elderly foreigner had brought upon me.

"I am more than glad to meet you, doctor," Dicky said heartily, stressing the adverb and the pronoun, "and I feel that we owe you an explanation."

There was nothing in the physician's noncommittal professional expression to indicate that he was doing anything else than listen conventionally to Dicky's remarks. But I caught a glimpse of his keen eyes as they glanced at me, and I fixed myself on Dicky again, and I knew the little doctor was reading my husband and weighing what he read carefully and judiciously.

"Before that, however," Dicky went on, "do let me assure you how much I appreciate your care of Mrs. Graham. She has had a most unpleasant experience, and it was indeed fortunate that she was able to obtain your attention."

Dicky Asks a Question.

The physician gave a deprecatory wave of his plump white hand, but I fancied that he was being favorably impressed by Dicky. I was watching him intently, and I fancied that I saw something a bit strained and unusual in the scrutiny to which he was subjecting my husband. It was as if he were trying to recall something which Dicky's features suggested.

"Has Mrs. Graham told you of the fright which was responsible for her injury?" Dicky asked next, and as I heard the naturalness of the deferential inquiry I permitted myself a tiny smile.

unseen by the physician. What tale my husband meant to tell I did not know, but that it would be a plausible story I did not doubt.

The physician shook his head. "She has not been in a condition to talk much," he said, but without looking at me.

"You Were Across?"

"I thought not," Dicky replied. "In fact, she was so unperturbed that she had hard work telling me. She came into town this morning on a shopping trip, and was unfortunately enough to be caught on that stalled train in the tunnel. During the delay she was annoyed and frightened by a man—no you can't give him that name, the time-worn 'masquerade' better describes him—who, when she finally reached the station, kept close to her. In her attempt to get away from him she was caught in the crowd and received that blow on the head. When she revived in the waiting room and saw him outside, her one thought was to get away. She secured a taxi and came here, and in her half-hysterical condition decided that she would do the ostrich stunt and register under another name than her own. The feminine mind, you know, doctor, moves in a mysterious way."

Even through my relief at the story Dicky had recounted there came a flash of resentment that he could not have omitted the little humorous dig at feminine follies which he rarely forgets when I am the subject of the conversation. But I had no chance to dwell upon it, for Dicky was speaking again.

"Just what is best to do I do not know. Perhaps you can advise me. Of course, my identification is a mere matter of form. I can easily do that."

He drew out his card case, paused in the act of extracting his card, fixing his eyes upon the tiny bar with red and blue stripes which I had noticed upon the elderly physician's coat, and which told its mute story of heroic medical service.

"Your were across?" he said. "Do you know, I believe I have seen you over there. I thought your face was familiar."

The little physician started violently.

"Dear, dear!" he said, and the expletive, evidently the strongest he ever used, seemed so incongruous with what I knew must be his record of service, that I suppressed a smile with difficulty. "I should think I had seen you, although I never met you personally. But who of us didn't know Graham of the air service, Graham, the ace? My boy, you've got your identification with me. What can I do to serve you?"

GOLLMAR BROS. CIRCUS TO EXHIBIT HERE ON APRIL 19

The advance announcement of the appearance in Albany-Deatur Wednesday, April 19, of Gollmar Bros. circus will be greeted with delight by the residents, the circus playing at the Albany ball grounds under the auspices of the Tennessee Valley Shrine club. Old and young alike will welcome the news, as a visit from this superior outdoor amusement enterprise, which is well known and very popular is an assurance of a round of real pleasure for all.

The Gollmar Bros. circus has been greatly strengthened and enlarged for this season and the performance presented has been pronounced to be of the very highest class in every particular, interesting, entertaining, instructive and amusing, including many trained wild animals.

So many really meritorious features have been added this season it requires three rings, two huge arenas and a hippodrome track to properly present the startling, sensational and thrilling feats of strength, daring and agility. No other show of its size and character has ever offered so great a gathering of acrobats, equestrians, gymnasts, aerialists, riders and equilibrists as has been assembled here. Each and every act is entirely new and has been selected for its individual novelty and greatness.

A zoological and exposition that stands pre-eminent among circuses affords an object lesson for the student, a source of wonderment for the learned and gratifying exhibition for children.

Grand street parade at 11 a. m. day shows exhibit here. The entire affair is under the direction of the Tennessee Valley Shrine club, who expect to net quite a sum of money from the event.

THE BUREAU OF
ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY

J. ADLAI WEST, Correspondent.

Leave items of general interest, including social, personals, current happenings, at Peoples Drug Company.

The stage is all set for Field Day exercises to be held here Friday. The schools have been busy for some time making ready for the day, and there is every reason to believe that the day will be a success. With pretty weather assured, there will be several thousand visitors here on that day.

The Parent-Teachers association has made arrangements to serve lunch on the grounds, and ample provision will be made for those from a distance who may attend. The contests of the day will be held on the Athletic field adjoining the high school building. Several athletic contests are to be held, the road race being one which is eliciting the most spirited contest. The new field fence enclosing the grounds is complete, and the grandstand is nearing completion.

The Hartsville baseball team is rounding into shape, and with some additions to the hurling staff the team will be a strong bidder for winning honors before the season closes. Several games have been played here since the organization, the team winning a majority of them.

The Hartsville-Cornet band has been engaged to render music during the Field Day exercises. The band has been recently re-organized and have been putting in faithful practice each night getting ready. The band will have 25 pieces when thoroughly organized, and under the leadership of Paul W. Barclift, a veteran player, it hopes to make for itself a place in the music world. Several new instruments have recently been purchased in addition to the ones already owned by the disbanded band.

The meeting at the Baptist church under the direction of Dr. Ben Cox of Memphis, continues to increase in numbers and interest. The meeting is to continue through the 16th. The music during the meeting is proving

Sidney H. Blan
Is Visitor Here

Sidney H. Blan, editor of The Troy Messenger, and candidate for secretary of state, was here today enroute to Sheffield to attend a banquet of the Rotary club. Mr. Blan being a prominent member of that organization.

Mr. Blan holds two state-wide positions in church work, and is prominent in several civic and fraternal organizations.

He edits one of the most successful of the smaller dailies in the state and is widely known throughout Alabama.

Decisions of Supreme Court

Morgan decisions in supreme court today follow:

E. C. Payne versus R. E. Spraggins; affirmed.

W. W. Garnett versus C. H. Scott; reversed and remanded.

TO CALL DOCKET

The equity docket of the circuit court will be called April 14, at 9 a. m. Judge R. C. Brickell will hear and dispose of the docket.

A feature, a large choir being formed under the leadership of a trained chorister.

Mrs. Kimbrough of Mobile, mother of Dr. John Kimbrough spent several days here recently, returning home one day last week.

Another trade day will be planned and held here, the date not yet being determined. The fact that inclement weather kept many from attending who would have otherwise done so, and the further fact that the lessons learned by staging the first one, have spurred the interests here to put on another one soon. Trade days will be a regular feature of the business interests here during the summer months. A good start was made at the initial one, and much learned that will be of value at the others which will be held.

Much interest is being evidenced in the Mock Trial which will be staged at the city school auditorium Saturday evening under the auspices of the Hartsville Epworth league. Judge Abernathy, of Birmingham, will preside as judge, attorneys have been secured, and the witnesses will all be here to "tell the truth" for the plaintiff and defendant in the case at issue. The proceeds will go to the Epworth league in helping them to meet the obligations pledged for the year. This insures a capacity house.

Another heavy rain Wednesday topped all farm work again, and further retarded operations already late and way behind. No upland corn yet has been planted, and many are being hindered in planning and planting gardens.

Walter Mittweide left Sunday for Cleveland, Tenn., to report as a member of a team in the Appalachian league. Walter played last season with the Lindale, Ga., team and hopes this year to find a berth in the Southern league before the season ends.

Indiana Lady Had Something Like Indigestion Until She Took Black-Draught, Then Got All Right.

Beymour, Ind.—"Some time ago I had a sick spell, something like indigestion," writes Mrs. Clara Peacock, of Route 6, this place. "I would get very sick at the stomach, and spit or vomit, especially in the mornings."

"Then I began the use of Theodor's Black-Draught, after I had tried other remedies. The Black-Draught relieved me more than anything that I took, and I got all right."

"I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught when suffering from trouble caused by constipation. It is easy and sure. Can be taken in small doses or large as the case calls for."

When you have sick stomach, indigestion, headache, constipation, or other disagreeable symptoms, take Black-Draught to help keep your system free from poison.

Loveman Speaks
Here This Evening

The Morgan Kiwanis club held a meeting at noon today at the Albany Y. M. C. A. At this time it was hoped to have Kiwanian Joseph Loveman, of Birmingham, to address the meeting. A message received while the meeting was in progress was to the effect that Mr. Loveman was unavoidably detained, but would arrive today on No. 2. He is scheduled for an address tonight.

The usual routine business was transacted and a delegation was selected to attend a Kiwanis organization meeting at Sheffield Friday.

MONTHS OF SUFFERING

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me." — ROSE WADSWORTH, 3018 Rowland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women know what they have suffered, they describe their symptoms and state how they were finally made well. Just plain statements, but they want other women to be helped.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the sickness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?

GOOD SOAP FOR LESS THAN TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or floating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all
